Points of Creation

As a review of strategies for the global site, we successfully improved the site's functions as a gateway to countries throughout the world as well as effectively promoting the corporate value by improving categorization, labeling, usability and other issues based on analysis of the users' needs. To offer information as a global company and to navigate targeted users smoothly to their appropriate region's relevant website, we will present contents more focusing on IR information for overseas stakeholders. Also, to meet the users' needs, designed for ease in updating by utilizing the XML format created via external data. The website improves the awareness and understanding of Hikari Tsushin's global activities and contributes to the creation of a better corporate brand image.

We would also be glad to have your request for our official website.
